

GuestSafe Ltd – Training Course Terms and Conditions

Version 2.0 | Effective July 2026

These Terms and Conditions apply to training courses, e-learning courses and associated training products supplied by GuestSafe Ltd ("GuestSafe", "we", "us" or "our"), including courses marketed or sold through EventSafetyTraining.uk, GuestSafe websites, online learning platforms, quotations, invoices or other booking channels.

GuestSafe Ltd is the contracting party and supplier of the training. Unless expressly stated otherwise, all payments for Courses are made to GuestSafe Ltd.

By purchasing, booking or accepting a place on a Course, the Client agrees to these Terms and Conditions.

1. Definitions

For these Terms:

"Client" means the individual, company or organisation purchasing or booking the Course.

"Delegate" means an individual registered to participate in a Course.

"Course" means any training programme, workshop or learning product supplied by GuestSafe, including live online training, face-to-face training and self-paced e-learning.

"Live Course" means a Course delivered by a trainer at a specified date and time, whether online or face-to-face.

"E-Learning Course" means a self-paced digital Course accessed through GuestSafe's nominated learning platform.

"Accredited Course" means a Course approved, accredited or certificated by IOSH or another relevant awarding or professional body.

"Course Materials" means presentations, videos, recordings, exercises, workbooks, templates, assessments, images, downloads and other materials supplied as part of a Course.

"Delegate Place" means one place purchased for one Delegate on a specified Live Course.

2. Booking and Formation of Contract

A booking becomes binding when:

- GuestSafe receives payment in full; or
- GuestSafe confirms the booking in writing following acceptance of a purchase order or other agreed credit arrangement.

All bookings are subject to availability.

Where a Client books multiple Delegate Places, the booking is for the number of places purchased, not the number of Delegates who ultimately attend.

For example, where a Client books and pays for 10 Delegate Places, the Client has purchased 10 places. If only eight Delegates subsequently attend, this does not automatically entitle the Client to a refund, credit or reduction in the Course fee.

The Client is responsible for providing accurate Delegate information and for ensuring that Delegates are available to attend the Course booked.

3. Fees, Deposits and Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, all Course fees must be paid in full before the Course takes place or before access to an E-Learning Course is provided.

Online and Individual Bookings

For Courses booked directly online, payment in full is required at the point of purchase unless an alternative payment arrangement is expressly offered by GuestSafe.

Corporate, Group and Private Course Bookings

For corporate, group or private Course bookings, GuestSafe may require a 25% non-refundable deposit to confirm the booking and secure the agreed Course date.

The booking and Course date will not be considered confirmed until the required deposit has been received.

The remaining balance must be paid in full no later than 14 calendar days before the Course start date, unless alternative payment terms have been agreed in writing by GuestSafe.

Where a booking is made 14 calendar days or fewer before the Course start date, the full Course fee is payable at the time of booking.

The deposit forms part of the total Course fee and is not an additional charge.

Invoiced Bookings

Where GuestSafe agrees to invoice a corporate Client, invoices will normally be payable within 14 days of the invoice date, unless different payment terms are stated on the quotation or invoice.

Where the payment due date would fall after the Course start date, payment must instead be received in full before the Course begins unless GuestSafe has expressly agreed otherwise in writing.

Cancellation and Deposits

The 25% booking deposit is non-refundable where the Client subsequently cancels the booking.

Where the applicable cancellation charge under Section 4 exceeds the amount of the deposit, the Client remains liable for the balance of the applicable cancellation charge.

For example, where a Course is cancelled 14 days or fewer before delivery, the full Course fee remains payable in accordance with the cancellation policy, regardless of whether only the initial deposit has been paid.

Outstanding Payments

Payment must be made in full without deduction or set-off.

GuestSafe reserves the right to:

- refuse Course attendance;
- cancel or release a reserved Course date;
- suspend E-Learning access;
- withhold Course materials; or
- withhold certification

where payment remains outstanding after the applicable due date.

For overdue business-to-business invoices, GuestSafe reserves the right to charge statutory interest and applicable compensation in accordance with the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998.

4. Live Courses – Cancellation by the Client

The following cancellation terms apply to Live Courses, including live online and face-to-face IOSH courses.

Cancellation must be made in writing.

The date GuestSafe receives the written cancellation determines the applicable cancellation charge.

More than 28 calendar days before the Course

The Client may cancel Delegate Places and receive a full refund of the fees paid for those places.

Between 15 and 28 calendar days before the Course

50% of the fee for each cancelled Delegate Place will remain payable.

Where payment has already been made, GuestSafe will refund 50% of the relevant fee.

14 calendar days or fewer before the Course

The full fee is payable.

No refund or credit will be given for cancelled Delegate Places.

This applies whether the Client cancels the entire booking or reduces the number of Delegates attending.

Example

If an organisation books and pays for 10 Delegates and, seven days before the Course, informs GuestSafe that only seven Delegates will attend, the booking remains for 10 Delegate Places and no refund or credit will be provided for the three unused places.

The Client may, however, substitute other suitable Delegates in accordance with Section 6.

5. Reduction in Delegate Numbers

A reduction in Delegate numbers is treated as a cancellation of the relevant individual Delegate Places.

The cancellation terms in Section 4 therefore apply separately to each place removed from the booking.

Delegate Places are reserved specifically for the Client and may prevent GuestSafe from selling those places to other customers.

Once the booking enters the 14-day non-refundable period, the number of Delegate Places purchased is fixed for charging purposes.

Changes in staffing, annual leave, sickness, workload, operational requirements or an individual Delegate becoming unavailable do not create an entitlement to a refund.

Where possible, Clients should use the substitution arrangements below rather than allowing a paid Delegate Place to go unused.

6. Delegate Substitutions

GuestSafe recognises that individual Delegates may become unavailable.

A Client may normally substitute another suitable Delegate for the person originally booked without charge, provided GuestSafe receives the replacement Delegate's required information before the Course begins and the substitution is permitted under any applicable IOSH or awarding-body requirements.

Where certification registration, assessment documentation or awarding-body registration has already been completed, GuestSafe reserves the right to charge any additional external or administrative costs arising from a late substitution.

A Delegate substitution does not change the Course date and does not constitute a cancellation.

7. Transfers to Another Course Date

Requests to transfer a Delegate to another scheduled Course date must be made in writing.

Transfers are not an automatic right and are subject to availability.

Where requested:

- more than 28 days before the Course, one transfer may normally be permitted without charge;
- between 15 and 28 days before the Course, GuestSafe may charge an administration fee or 25% of the Delegate fee;
- 14 days or fewer before the Course, GuestSafe is under no obligation to permit a transfer and the original Course fee remains payable.

Where GuestSafe agrees to a transfer, the transferred place must normally be used within 12 months of the original Course date.

A transfer cannot be used to circumvent the cancellation provisions.

If a transferred booking is subsequently cancelled, GuestSafe reserves the right to calculate any cancellation charge by reference to the original Course date.

8. Non-Attendance and Partial Attendance

Failure to attend a Live Course does not entitle the Client or Delegate to a refund, credit or transfer.

The full Course fee remains payable in cases of:

- non-attendance;
- late arrival that prevents participation;
- partial attendance;
- a Delegate leaving a Course early;
- illness or other personal circumstances;
- failure to complete required Course activities or assessments.

GuestSafe may, entirely at its discretion, agree to an alternative arrangement in exceptional circumstances. Any such arrangement does not create an obligation to make the same exception in future cases.

9. Private and In-House Courses

Where a Client books GuestSafe to deliver a private or in-house Course for an agreed fee, that fee is based on GuestSafe reserving the agreed trainer time, Course date and delivery capacity.

Unless the quotation expressly states that the price is calculated per attending Delegate, a reduction in the number of Delegates attending an in-house Course does not reduce the agreed Course fee.

Where the price has been calculated according to a specified number of Delegate Places, the cancellation provisions in Sections 4 and 5 apply to any reduction in those places.

Any non-refundable expenses already incurred by GuestSafe, including venue, travel, accommodation, accreditation, registration, materials or other third-party costs, may also remain payable where a Client cancels or reschedules an in-house Course.

10. E-Learning Courses

E-Learning Course licences are purchased for individual Delegates and may not be shared between users.

Once an E-Learning Course has been activated, accessed or commenced by a Delegate, the relevant licence is non-refundable, subject always to the Client's statutory rights where applicable.

No refund will be provided because a Delegate:

- does not start the Course;
- does not complete the Course within the permitted access period;
- completes only part of the Course;
- fails an assessment;
- changes employment;
- no longer requires the training; or
- experiences technical problems arising from their own equipment, software or internet connection.

The applicable access period will be displayed when the Course is purchased or communicated separately.

Access expires at the end of that period unless GuestSafe agrees an extension.

11. Bulk E-Learning Purchases

Where an organisation purchases multiple e-learning licences, each licence represents one individual Delegate place.

Activated licences are non-refundable and non-transferable unless GuestSafe agrees otherwise.

For unused and unallocated licences, GuestSafe may permit reassignment to another employee or Delegate within the Client's organisation during the applicable licence period.

Unless GuestSafe expressly agrees otherwise in writing, purchasing more licences than the Client ultimately uses does not automatically entitle the Client to a refund.

Any bulk-purchase discount is based on the number of licences originally purchased. Where GuestSafe agrees exceptionally to refund part of a bulk purchase, it may recalculate the remaining licences at the price or discount applicable to the reduced quantity before determining any refund.

12. Consumer Cancellation Rights and Digital Content

This section applies where the Client is an individual purchasing primarily for purposes outside their trade, business, craft or profession.

Consumers purchasing at a distance may have statutory cancellation rights, including rights under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013.

Where a Consumer purchases an E-Learning Course and requests immediate access during the statutory cancellation period, GuestSafe will ask the Consumer to expressly consent to the immediate supply of the digital content and acknowledge the effect this has on their statutory cancellation rights.

Once digital content has been supplied following the Consumer's express consent and acknowledgement, the Consumer's statutory right to cancel may be lost in accordance with applicable law.

Nothing in these Terms is intended to restrict or exclude any statutory rights that cannot lawfully be restricted or excluded.

13. Technical Requirements

Delegates participating in online training are responsible for ensuring they have appropriate:

- internet access;
- computer or compatible device;
- browser and software;
- audio capability;
- webcam capability where required; and
- access to any systems specified before the Course.

GuestSafe is not responsible for a Delegate's inability to participate because of problems with their own equipment, internet connection, firewall, software or IT systems.

Where a technical failure attributable to GuestSafe or its learning platform materially prevents access to an E-Learning Course, GuestSafe will take reasonable steps to restore access and may extend the Delegate's access period.

14. Cancellation or Rescheduling by GuestSafe

GuestSafe reserves the right where reasonably necessary to:

- change trainers;
- make reasonable amendments to Course content;
- change the venue;
- reschedule a Course;
- cancel a Course;
- change delivery arrangements; or
- make changes required by IOSH or another awarding body.

Where GuestSafe cancels a Live Course and cannot provide a suitable alternative date, the Client will be entitled to a refund of the affected Course fees.

GuestSafe will not be responsible for additional costs incurred by the Client or Delegate, including travel, accommodation, loss of earnings or other consequential costs, except where liability cannot lawfully be excluded.

Clients should therefore consider booking flexible or refundable travel and accommodation arrangements.

15. IOSH and Other Accredited Courses

Accredited Courses are subject to the requirements of the relevant awarding or approving body.

For IOSH Courses, Delegates must satisfy applicable IOSH requirements relating to attendance, participation, assessment and identification.

Booking or attending a Course does not guarantee successful completion or certification.

Certification may depend upon:

- satisfactory attendance;
- completion of required learning;
- successful completion of assessments;
- compliance with IOSH requirements; and
- payment of all applicable fees.

GuestSafe is not responsible for a Delegate failing to achieve the required assessment standard.

16. Delegate Conduct

Delegates are expected to behave professionally and respectfully towards trainers, other Delegates, venue staff and GuestSafe representatives.

GuestSafe reserves the right to remove a Delegate from a Course for serious or persistent:

- disruptive behaviour;
- abusive or discriminatory conduct;
- harassment;
- unsafe behaviour;
- academic or assessment misconduct; or
- breach of these Terms.

Removal for misconduct does not entitle the Client to a refund.

17. Intellectual Property

Unless expressly stated otherwise, Course content and Course Materials created by GuestSafe are owned by or licensed to GuestSafe Ltd.

Certain materials associated with accredited Courses may be owned by IOSH or another relevant third party and remain subject to their respective intellectual property rights.

Course Materials are supplied solely for the personal learning and internal professional development of the registered Delegate.

Without prior written permission from GuestSafe, Course Materials must not be:

- copied or reproduced;
- shared with people who have not purchased access;
- uploaded to another website, learning platform or file-sharing service;
- recorded or filmed;
- resold;
- modified and presented as the Client's own training;
- used to create another training Course; or
- used for commercial training delivery.

Login credentials and E-Learning Course access must not be shared.

Unauthorised reproduction or distribution may constitute a material breach of these Terms and infringement of intellectual property rights.

18. Course Information and Professional Advice

GuestSafe takes reasonable care to ensure that its training is accurate and current at the time of delivery.

Training is provided for educational and professional development purposes and should not be treated as a substitute for competent professional advice relating to a specific workplace, event, venue, risk assessment or legal situation.

Health and safety responsibilities remain with the relevant employer, organiser, venue, contractor or dutyholder.

19. Liability

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits liability where it would be unlawful to do so, including liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence, fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.

Subject to those exceptions and to applicable law, GuestSafe's total liability arising from a Course will not exceed the total Course fees paid by the Client in respect of the relevant booking.

GuestSafe will not be liable for indirect or consequential losses, loss of profit, loss of revenue, loss of business, loss of opportunity or loss of anticipated savings arising from the provision or cancellation of a Course.

20. Force Majeure

GuestSafe will not be liable for failure or delay in delivering a Course where this results from circumstances beyond its reasonable control.

These may include severe weather, transport disruption, venue closure, power or telecommunications failure, public health emergencies, government action, industrial disputes or other events that make delivery impracticable or unsafe.

Where reasonably possible, GuestSafe will seek to reschedule the Course or provide an alternative method of delivery.

21. Data Protection

GuestSafe processes personal information in accordance with applicable UK data protection legislation, including the UK GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018.

Delegate information may also need to be provided to IOSH or another awarding body where necessary for Course registration, assessment or certification.

Further information is contained in GuestSafe's Privacy Policy.

22. Refunds

Where a refund is due under these Terms, it will normally be returned using the original payment method.

GuestSafe aims to process approved refunds within 14 days.

Cancellation and refund requests must be submitted in writing to the contact address published on the relevant GuestSafe or Event Safety Training website.

The date GuestSafe receives the written request will determine the cancellation period and any applicable charge.

23. Exceptional Circumstances

GuestSafe understands that exceptional circumstances can arise and may, at its sole discretion, offer a transfer, credit or other alternative where the strict cancellation provisions would otherwise apply.

Any discretionary arrangement is made on a case-by-case basis and does not alter these Terms or establish a precedent for future bookings.

24. Changes to These Terms

GuestSafe may update these Terms from time to time.

The Terms applying to a booking will normally be those in force at the date the booking is confirmed, unless a change is required by law, regulation or an applicable awarding body.

25. Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the laws of England and Wales.

The courts of England and Wales will have jurisdiction, subject to any mandatory rights available to consumers under applicable law.

Contact and Contracting Entity

All Courses, training services, e-learning products and associated Course Materials marketed through GuestSafe and EventSafetyTraining.uk are supplied by:

GuestSafe Limited

Company No: 09527318

Registered Office: The Old Workshop, 1 Ecclesall Road South, Sheffield, S11 9PA, United Kingdom

GuestSafe Limited is the contracting entity responsible for the supply of the Courses and is the entity to which Course fees are payable.

EventSafetyTraining.uk is operated by GuestSafe Limited and is used to market and sell GuestSafe's live and accredited training courses, including IOSH courses.

Unless otherwise stated, Course Materials created by GuestSafe Limited remain the intellectual property of GuestSafe Limited.

Training enquiries: trainers@eventsafetytraining.uk

Event Safety Training: www.eventsafetytraining.uk